The Ten Commandments are still in effect. This relates to number three.

“But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.”

Matthew 12:36

Lord's Name in Vain. Part Two. Read Part One, 10 January 2012. Take not the Lord's name in vain. Father God bless you to understand to prepare for the Coming Messiah—our Messiah is coming soon! (Continuing)

An unsaved fellow exclaimed in my presence, “Lord!” and sometimes you and I will hear, “Oh, Lordy!” These are expressions. These are not statements. People often imagine that this one word is a statement like “Lord have mercy.” They may be thinking Lord have mercy, but they are not saying it. What they are doing is violating the Third Commandment, making it more of a substitution for a more profane word or expression like *@#%, h-e-double hockey sticks. You know what I mean.

The use of the word Lord or Jesus or God is an expression which should be followed by other words to proclaim, ask, say something to the Lord concerning what you are so excited about—so excited that you have emotionally expressed a word with is representative of the Lord's name. You may say, “Anthony, you think too much.” Or, “Anthony you are making things too complex.” Or, “Anthony, God is not going to condemn me for that.” Is He? I do not know and do not want to take a chance. Do you? The Ten Commandments are in effect.

You may be one of those Christians who watch so much television and have so much worldliness in you that you believe it is okay to not follow the Ten Commandments. You may believe it is okay to take the Lord's name in vain, when Father God explicitly said not to do so. This is disobedience and rebellion. Those my friends are “no-no's.” (To be continued)
