The Lord gave me a VISION.

“And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:”

Act 2:17 (KJ)

Maranatha – 1. God gave me a vision this morning (11.07.2008). I saw how, through a very small spark, a whole ammunition depot was blown up. And the Lord said to me, “Write it down quickly, and let all your friends know, so they will be warned, and not panic.”

And this is what I saw: It was a black, middle-sized bomb which was fired into the desert like a missile. It looked like it was a maneuver or a military exercise. It was fired cluelessly. It did not meet its target, and looked like a false start. It appeared as if the bomb exploded in the middle of the desert. It had apparently missed its target and dropped off in the desert. Alas, no one had an idea that right at that point in the desert, below the sand, a mighty armory was located, which had been secretly placed long before this time.

This small bomb, which had missed its target, now triggered an inferno. The explosion from the stored bomb under the sand was no longer to be stopped. Every minute brought about another greater and more severe explosion. It refused to stop. The smoke that resulted from these explosions caused darkness in the whole world. The whole world was here, like a village. All the people I saw were seriously affected, shocked and horrified. They called out and screamed, "How could people be so crazy as to explode bombs here, even though they are for test purposes".

It went blow after blow. There was no one who could stop this catastrophe, or to quench the fire. No one even had the ability to do so. There arose a great and mighty cloud of smoke up to the sky, just like the eruption of a mighty volcano. As I continued to look at this inferno, I saw on the floor, the map stretched from Egypt, Israel, Syria up till Pakistan, and in the middle was Saudi Arabia. This was in my estimation, the location of the great armory that was blown up. There was much sand and wasteland all around. The smoke and the desert sand from this inferno spread itself like wildfire over the whole world and brought about darkness even at bright midday. The whole world panicked. Even I woke up with a start, and asked myself what had happened. (TO BE CONTINUED)
